1. Results of Operations

(1) Analysis of Results of Operations

Results of operation for the current interim period

1) Overview				(Millions of yen)
	Net sales	Operating income	Ordinary income	Net income
Six months ended Sep. 2007	49,450	4,702	4,462	2,823

YoY change (%)	13.7	0.7	5.1	7.5

In the first half of the fiscal year, Japan's economy continued to expand slowly. Although there were concerns about the high cost of crude oil and other raw materials as well as rising interest rates, the economy benefited from growing capital expenditures and an improving employment picture as corporate earnings remained strong. The healthcare market was also strong due to the high level of public interest in leading a healthy life. However, competition is intensifying as companies from other industries enter this market. In response, the Rohto Group conducted aggressive sales activities that included developing new products that target customers' needs and marketing campaigns aimed at making inroads in new market categories.

Net sales increased 5,946 million yen, or 13.7%, year-on-year to 49,450 million yen. In Japan, there were strong sales of summer products because of intense summer heat. Beauty care products like the HADA (SKIN) LABO and Obagi series also performed well. The newly launched 50-no-Megumi brand also contributed to sales growth. The Wakansen series of traditional Chinese herbal medicine products launched in November 2006 has been raised awareness of its brand and posting steady growth, backed in part by an increase in new prescriptions. New subsidiary Meguro Kako Inc. was another reason for sales growth in the first half.

Outside Japan, sales were lower in North America following high-profile sales activities in 2006 to promote the OXY lineup of acne treatments. Sales continued to grow in Asia and performance was strong in Europe, too.

Earnings benefited from sales growth and actions to use selling, general and administrative expenses more efficiently. As a result, earnings were higher even though we had expected an earnings decline. Operating income increased 0.7% year-on-year to 4,702 million yen, ordinary income increased 5.1% to 4,462 million yen, and net income increased 7.5% to 2,823 million yen.

Eye care products (eye drops, eyewash preparations, contact lens products, etc.)

In Japan, there were solid sales of eye drops and eyewash products in the value-added Kaigan Shinsho and Rohto Zi series of products and in the C CUBE series of contact lens products. Sales also benefited from a decline in returns of hay fever products. However, total sales in Japan were flat because of a downturn in sales of contact lens care solution products for hard contact lenses.

Outside Japan, sales in Asia performed well and total segment sales increased 6.3% year-on-year to 13,014 million yen.

Skincare products (dermal medicines, lip balm, sunscreens, functional cosmetics, etc.)

Favorable weather in Japan created strong demand for sunscreens and other seasonable products and there were also brisk sales of beauty care products. Sales of HADA (SKIN) LABO brand products were particularly strong, backed by the success of the updated line of products in the core Gokujyun series and popularity of the egg-like-skin series of products. The September launch of Obagi Derma Force X also contributed to sales growth in this segment.

Outside Japan, sales increased in Asia, mainly China. As a result, total segment sales increased 7.9% to 26,067 million yen.

Internal medicines (gastrointestinal medicines, cold remedies, traditional Chinese herbal medicines, supplements, etc.)

The Wakansen brand of traditional Chinese herbal medicines, which features products that are easy to understand, was successful at creating new sources of demand. Consumers who had viewed Chinese herbal medicines as too complex welcomed this new form of product value. In addition, there were strong sales of Vita Rest Tablets, a nutritional agent that is a scientific means of restoring energy following overwork. Segment sales also include the results of new subsidiary Meguro Kako Inc. As a result, sales in this segment increased significantly from 76.2% to 7,154 million yen.

Others (in-vitro test kits, hay fever products, etc.)

Sales of pregnancy test kits and ovulation prediction kits in the Dotest series were unchanged because of intense competition. Sales of influenza test kits declined. This weakness was offset by growth in sales of hay fever products as returns of masks and other products declined. The result was a 5.3% increase in sales to 3,215 million yen.

. . 1 21 2000

Japan's economy is expected to continue to recover during the remainder of the fiscal year. However, there are concerns about the outlook due to the high cost of crude oil and fears concerning higher interest rates. The outlook for the global economy is also unclear despite ongoing growth, mainly in Asia, because of the trend in crude oil prices and the widening impact of the U.S. subprime loan problem.

In this environment, the Rohto Group will take advantage of opportunities created by deregulation and shifts in the healthcare industry's operating environment. Two priorities are entering new market sectors and introducing value-added products. In addition, plans include using the overseas network to expand operations while conducting extensive actions to cut costs and use expenses more productively. All activities will be focused on the goals of achieving further growth in operations and improving earnings.

In Japan, we will continue to concentrate on raising sales of beauty care products and Wakansen brand products. Another goal is reinforcing R&D capabilities, primarily at Rohto Research Village Kyoto, in order to develop new products. To grow overseas, the Rohto Group will use its collective resources to launch new brands and rapidly increase sales of new products.

For the fiscal year ending in March 31, 2008, we forecast net sales of 105,000 million yen, up 9.8%, operating income of 11,600 million yen, up 1.9%, ordinary income of 10,800 million yen, up 4.8%, and net income of 6,900 million yen, up 4.3% year-on-year. These forecasts are based on an exchange rate of 115 yen to the U.S. dollar.

(3) Basic Policy of Profit Distribution and Dividends for the Current Fiscal Year

Consistently returning to shareholders the profits earned through business activities is one of our highest priorities. The fundamental policy is to pay a dividend based on operating results. Retained earnings will be used for the development of new products, manufacturing equipment and other investments to respond to changes in the operating environment. We believe that these investments will contribute to future earnings, thereby enabling the company to pay a large and stable dividend to shareholders.

We plan to raise the interim dividend per share by 1 yen to 6 yen as initially planned. This will make the total dividend of 12 yen per share, 1 yen more than for the previous fiscal year.

(4) Business Risk

This section presents major risks that may have an effect on the Rohto Group's operating results and financial condition. Management is aware of these risks and is taking actions to prevent these problems and to respond appropriately if a problem occurs.

This section includes forward-looking statements that represent the judgments of management as of the end of the first half of the current fiscal year.

1) Legal restrictions and systems and regulatory matters

The operations of the Rohto Group fall under the jurisdiction of Japan's Pharmaceutical Affairs Law and other associated laws and regulations (and the deregulation of these laws). Future changes in these laws and regulations may have an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

2) Overseas operations

The Group conducts operations on a global scale, and the share of overseas sales has been increasing in recent years. In the first half of the current fiscal year, overseas sales were 29.6% of consolidated sales. As a result, unforeseen negative political and economic developments in other countries, changes in laws and regulations, and other events may have an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

3) Reliance on certain customers

The 10 largest companies that purchase the Group's products account for 81.3% of total sales. If there is a change in the business activities of any of these companies, a bankruptcy or other problem at these companies, there may be an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

4) Termination of alliances with other companies

The Group has a variety of alliances with other companies that concern joint development projects, joint sales, the use of products (including the manufacture and sale of products under licenses) and other activities. If an alliance is terminated for whatever reason, there may be an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

5) Suspension of sales, product recall, etc.

If there is a defect, unexpected side effect, contamination problem or other problem concerning a Group product that causes the suspension of sales or a product recall, there may be an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

6) Intellectual property rights, litigation

In the event that the Group is unable to appropriately protect its intellectual properties, a third party may use the Group's technology. This event could have a negative impact on the Group's ability to compete in a particular market. In addition, although the Group exercises care and conducts studies for the purpose of avoiding an infringement on the intellectual property rights of other companies, there is a possibility of an infringement occurring. In this event, the Group may be sued for damages and be required to compensate the other party for losses. These payments may have an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition. Furthermore, there may be litigation concerning matters other than intellectual property rights, such as cases involving product liability and the environment. Depending on the outcome of this litigation, there may be an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

7) Management of information systems and information

The Group uses a variety of information systems to conduct its business operations. The suspension of operations or a malfunction of any of these systems could prevent the Group from efficiently conducting business operations. In addition, the Group holds a large volume of information, including personal information. There is an information management system in place and measures are taken to upgrade information management. However, a leak of any information could cause a loss of confidence in the Group that may have an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

8) Natural and other disasters

Main products sold in Japan are manufactured at two locations: the Osaka Head Office Plant and the Ueno Plant. In addition, almost all of these products are shipped from the Central Distribution Center. Although the Group takes adequate care with regard to ensuring the safety of operations, a fire, earthquake or other disaster at a plant or the distribution center could disrupt operations and have an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

9) Foreign exchange rates, stock prices and interest rates

Because the Group operates on a global scale, changes in foreign exchange rates may have an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition. Furthermore, the Group holds securities with market quotations, interest-bearing debt and other financial instruments. As a result, changes in stock prices, interest rates and other financial indicators may have an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

10) Other external risks

A cool summer, warm winter, changes in the amount of pollen dispersal and other seasonal factors can cause changes in the volume of product shipments and returned products. Furthermore, intense competition can cause unexpected declines in sales prices. All these events may have an effect on the Group's operating results and financial condition.

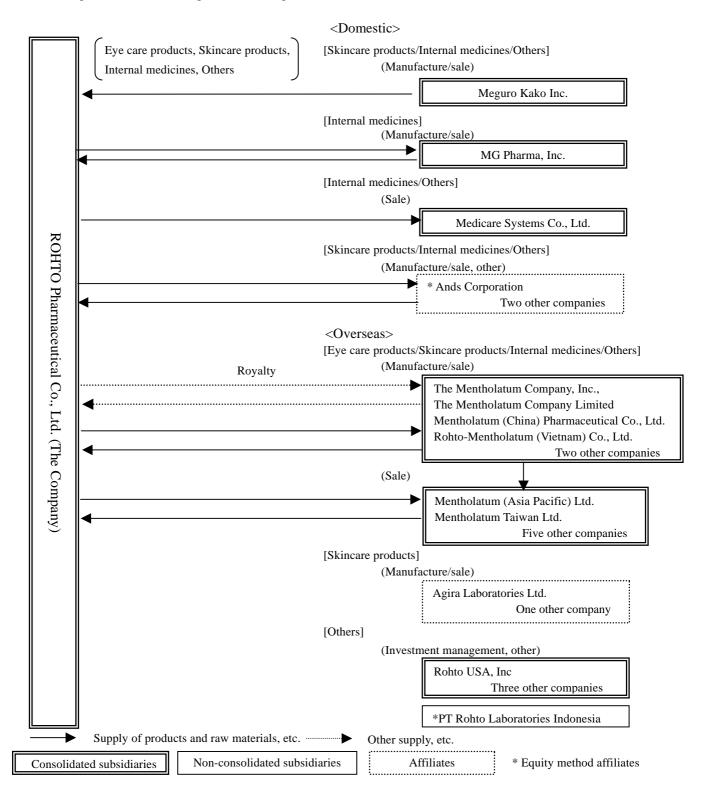

This is not intended to be a complete list of risks associated with the Group's operations. There are many other risks other than those listed above.

2. Corporate Group

The Rohto Group is made up of 21 subsidiaries and five affiliates. These companies are engaged primarily in the manufacture and sale of eye care products, skincare products, internal medicine and other products (in-vitro test kits, hay fever products and other products).

No information concerning related companies is presented here because there is no significant changes from the information presented in the Group's securities report (Yuka Shoken Hokokusho) dated June 27, 2007.

3. Management Policies

(1) Basic Management Policy

The Rohto Group bases its operations on the corporate slogan "Rohto, a pharmaceutical company pledged to bring you Happy Surprises." Based on this slogan, the Group aims to assist individuals use self-medication to improve their lives. Since Rohto's inception, we have concentrated on creating a broad range of healthcare products and developing new markets. We have remained focused on the themes of persistence and taking on new challenges in order to create eye drops, gastrointestinal medicines, dermal medicines, and other products. Even in today's rapidly changing operating environment, we remain committed to the spirit of this slogan in order to be a constant source of surprises and happiness for customers and society.

At the same time, the Rohto Group is dedicated to earning the trust and meeting the expectations of shareholders, customers, business partners, employees and all other stakeholders while operating in a manner that promotes mutual prosperity with others.

(2) Target Performance Indicators

The Rohto Group's primary goals are maximizing shareholder value and enhancing the satisfaction of all stakeholders. In the healthcare market, the objective is to establish brands that are either number one or among the leaders in their respective categories. In addition, management places priority on earnings indicators, particularly the operating margin, return on equity and ordinary income to total assets.

(3) Medium-term Business Strategy and Challenges

An aging population and a growing interest among people of all ages in leading a healthy life are having an increasing effect on the healthcare market in Japan. Furthermore, deregulation that includes changes in sales methods associated with amendments to the Pharmaceutical Affairs Law is expected to create new business opportunities. On the other hand, competition is likely to become even more heated as companies from other industries enter the healthcare market.

In response, the Rohto Group is seeking "new items" that consumers want, whether in the pharmaceuticals category or other product categories. We are targeting the broad "health and beauty" field. By developing value-added products and creating brands that meet new needs, we aim to establish brands that rank either first or among the leaders in their respective markets. To accomplish this, we must develop new products. But we must also acquire new brands in Japan and overseas and form ties with more business partners in order to further expand the scale of its operations.

To adapt to the significant changes now taking place in the operating environment, we believe that superiority in product development and technologies is vital in order to earn the trust of customers and become more competitive. Rohto Research Village Kyoto, which began operations in May 2006, will be the R&D base for these activities. The facility will strengthen the technological foundation for healthcare operations. This research village is also the center for actions involving antiaging and the disease prevention; collaboration with venture capital-backed companies that have promising technologies; and joint research projects with partners in Japan and overseas. We are determined to rapidly build a broad-based research infrastructure that covers the entire health and beauty domain.

In February 2007, Rohto purchased all shares of Meguro Kako Inc. from Sankyo Co., Ltd. Making this company a subsidiary provides a base for the full-scale expansion of the contract manufacturing business. We had already partially started this business itself to capitalize on new opportunities. We now have a sound base for entering the field of contract manufacturing associated with health and beauty care products. In addition to giving the group a new business unit, this acquisition expands manufacturing capabilities for internal medicines. Management believes this will contribute to further growth in corporate value.

Outside Japan, our highest priority is to expand operations in the growing markets of China, Vietnam, and other Asian nations. In North America and Europe, we will acquire new brands and take other aggressive actions aimed at growth.

Looking ahead, the Rohto Group will retain its commitment as a pharmaceutical manufacturer to supplying products that are safe and have outstanding quality. At the same time, we will seek to enter new business fields in order to earn the trust of customers and meet a diverse range of needs. All group companies will work relentlessly with the goal of achieving more growth in the scale of operations as well as in sales and earnings.
